

WebCamp Zagreb is a technology-oriented conference built by the community for the community. We're aimed at software developers and designers, regardless of their technology preference.

The conference is organized by volunteers from local user groups acting together under the wing of the WebCamp nonprofit organization with the mission to promote the exchange of knowledge and experiences in a healthy cooperative environment.

User groups involved in organization of WebCamp Zagreb are:

FrontmanHR, Javascript Zagreb, Lambda Zagreb, Microsoft Community Hrvatska, Python Hrvatska, RubyHR and ZgPHP.

WebCamp Zagreb was founded in 2012 when a group of enthusiasts from local user groups got together in an effort to create a conference for the whole community. Tickets were free and all of them were handed out in a single day making the conference a resounding success. Since then, WebCamp Zagreb has steadily grown in size and quality, reaching over 800 visitors in 2015.

Over 800 visitors in 2015.
